

Bainbridge Island public schools offer an outstanding educational start for young children, preparing them for the breadth and depth of learning opportunities awaiting them.

Our unique and excellent district

Bainbridge Island School District serves students in three elementary schools (grades K-4), one intermediate school (grades 5-6), one middle school (grades 7-8), one high school (grades 9-12), and parallel “small school” programs at Commodore Options School—a multiage program and a second, smaller high school. On the cutting edge of curricular and academic programming, the district offers innovative, research-based opportunities for students.

- Lower class sizes help students build important connections with teachers, facilitating a sense of belonging.
- There are half-day and full-day kindergarten programs, serving the needs of individual families.
- Highly qualified teachers and support professionals are committed to providing each student with the instruction that will help them learn and develop their natural interests.
- Certificated specialists teach physical education, music, art, and library media at every school.
- Researched academics and a breadth of opportunities support individual learning styles and growth.
- State-of-the-art instruction is backed with a full array of classroom technological support.
- Excellence is encouraged. Students' performance on state and national assessments produces some of the highest results in the state.
- The Odyssey Multiage Program offers a small school option with high parent involvement that support a variety of learning styles.
- Services for all students are available, with specialists for remedial reading and developmental or learning disabilities, as well as enriched programs for highly capable students.

Education in Bainbridge Island public schools is diverse, student-oriented, challenging, and nurturing.

Tools and support enhance our choices

A full array of classroom technology tools—document cameras, projectors and interactive whiteboards—continue to transform student learning, creating new possibilities for exploring and sharing knowledge.

Our curriculum and programs support social and emotional growth, strengthening our mission to help all students become successful learners, caring individuals and responsible citizens.

Parents and community volunteers are welcome and facilitate programs that expand students' experiences and prospects.

Outstanding possibilities are available at no cost

As economic belts tighten, tuition costs for private schools grow. Even using a low estimate of $9,000 per year with interest, K-12 tuition would cost more than $113,000 per child!

The Bainbridge Island community has a school system equal to or better than a private education without high tuition costs.

The proof can be seen in our graduates. Our students achieve at the highest levels on the aggregate Washington Assessment of Student Learning (WASL). When entering the competitive world of college, they are ranked as some of the best-prepared students attending universities, shoulder to shoulder with students from the premiere private schools.

grow in the experience

Bainbridge Island public schools offer young minds rich and innovative educational programs that encourage children to thrive personally as they excel academically. We have the parent involvement, teacher talent, and community support to continue these successes. We bring to our students the skills and experience that will build caring individuals and responsible citizens for a global community.
